OUR MISSION

We want to see more women at the decision making tables – and we need your help! Our goal is to have the best voices at the table, who just happen to be center, center-right women. She Holds the Key Michigan works to educate and train women to be effective policy leaders at all levels of government.

Your support helps us reach women across the state of Michigan – in every community – to provide them the training and mentor support to run and lead.
